Serves More Families — Tells More News

CLEAN-UP TIME — Getting ready for a Paint-up Clean-up campaign in Lemon Grove are Audrey Papenhaus and Margaret Goodger. The campaign, sponsored by the J.C. Chamber of Commerce, is set for the week of April 12. The clean up maidens are operators of the Shoe Box, at 7885 Broadway.

Sheriff Lauds Reserves In Lemon Grove Talk

Sheriff Joe O'Connor gave his reserve men a resounding pat on the back Friday in a talk at the Lemon Grove Men's Club. Touching on a wide range of police subjects he paid homage to the 150 men who "cost the county nothing but provide services more co-operatively than many paid employes." These men supply their own uniforms, guns and equipment, he explained. "The only thing we furnish is a badge and shoulder patches." He cited a long list of services these men provide.

About other police matters O'Connor said there is a narcotics problem in San Diego "regardless of what others have told you." The stuff comes across the border at San Diego and goes to other parts of the country.

He denied that he had attempted to slow the flow of news when he ordered clearance of information from a central office last year. "News media disseminated so much 'he said' and 'she said' stuff that the Supreme Court threw out some of our cases and the Grand Jury condemned us for letting the information out," he said. "No reporter has trouble getting facts under the new setup," he said.

He said that an honor camp for women would be costly and unnecessary. Earlier in the month Sup. Henry Boney announced that he was studying such a program.

He described the operation of his 400 personnel, $4 million a year "business. We serve our 800 prisoners 2,400 meals a day and that's a pretty big restaurant operation," he said. "What's more, we have an 'A' card. We had to earn it just like any other resturant," he said.

The club passed a resolution commending O'Connor for upholding the revocation of a teenager dance hall in Lemon Grove. The hall was the scene of a near-riot earlier in the month.

The program this week will be provided by Charles Spisak, publicity director of Goodwill Industries.

The club meets every Friday at noon at Michael's and all males of the community are invited for a no-host lunch.

BACK COUNTRY CAR — A new vehicle being used in east county areas by the Sheriff's department is a 4-wheel drive car. According to Sheriff's Lt. Bill Dovey, standing, the vehicle works equally well in desert or mountains and in snow. In the driver's seat is Deputy Ronald Kraft, resident officer of Julian who will use the vehicle in that area.

L.G. Clean-Up Week Planned

Lemon Grove is going to have its face brightened and it may take a whole week to do it.

At least, the committee which is meeting Monday at 11 a.m. at the Chamber of Commerce office to arrange the brightening, is setting March 12 through 17 as Lemon Grove Cleanup Week.

Bob Mastney, chairman of the program, has named committee chairmen for various functions. Al Woods has Boy and Girl Scouts; Mrs. V. Dittamore, PTA's; Paul Reynolds, County Agencies; Jesse Lee, contractors; John Bridger, landlords, and Mrs. A. Antoinette, VFW and Masonic organizations.

The program, by which the community will be given its cleanup will be explained Tuesday at the meeting, Mastney said.

Thief Robs S.V. Couple As They Move In New Home

The arrival of Walter E. Baker, Jr. and his wife at their new home, 8814 Ashmore, Spring Valley, didn't go unnoticed. But it was not the kind of welcome the Bakers would have liked.

Last Friday the Bakers moved their belongings into their new place and then went to spend the night with friends. Saturday when they returned they found their luggage had been ransacked and a sea bag full of Baker's Navy uniforms was gone. Baker said the uniforms were worth $300.

The windows were reported broken by a pellet gun. Damage was estimated at $200.

Plans are under way for a new 200,000 square foot addition to Grossmont Hospital by the architectural firm of Richard George Wheeler, AIA and Associates. Medical Planning Associates are planning consultants, and John Ruskin is structural engineer. Preliminary estimates place the construction cost in excess of $4,000,000.

The new air conditioned building, approximately 5 stories, will increase the hospital facility from 234 to 359 beds and will involve enlargement of the surgery, X-ray, dietary, laboratory, and central supply departments.

Included in the expansion will be a new boiler plant and a maintenance shops building.

Shop-At-Home Project Starts In Lemon Grove

The first in a series of shopping loyalty programs will start in Lemon Grove next week.

Local businessmen, disturbed by retailers who are offering local patrons a reduced price car-wash in an away-from-Lemon Grove location, decided to "keep it local."

They got the operators of Grove Car Wash, at 7457 Broadway, to wash cars for $1 with a coupon. Coupons are being given to patrons with minimum purchases at a wide list of Lemon Grove business places.

The Lemon Grove Review printed the coupons free of charge. The Grove Car Wash starts honoring coupons March 1. Local firms noted with satisfaction that the car wash with coupon is 50c lower than the regular price and 25c less than the out-of-Lemon Grove firm charges. The coupons are called "Lemon Grove Loyalty Certificates" and ask residents of Lemon Grove to "Shop in Lemon Grove."

The coupons are available now at the following firms: Mollys Texaco, Anderson Standard, Brumley's Shoes, McMahans Furniture, Tri-City TV.

The DIMMER VIEW

by MAX GOODWIN

Who's Who In Coupsville

"We can trace our troubles in South Vietnam directly to the stupidity of the U. S. Government in bowing to the Buddhist's demands to get rid of president Diem. We haven't seen a stable government there since."

In those words, a high-ranking former U. S. military officer who served in South Vietnam summed up our problems in that hapless country according to a report in the CONGRESSIONAL NEWSLETTER. Since the overthrow in November, 1963, of President Diem, who had headed his country since 1954, even Far East experts have a hard time trying to follow the coups and changes in top-level government posts in South Vietnam. Here's a brief chronology:

Nov. 1, 1963 — After months of Buddhist rioting against the government, the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem— with the tacit support of the U. S. Government — is overthrown in a military coup. Diem and his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, are murdered. Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh was named to head a military junta.

Jan. 30, 1964 — A military coup, organized by Gen. Nguyen Khanh, topples Minh's junta. Minh becomes figurehead chief of state. Khanh becomes premier and chairman of Military Revolutionary Council.

Aug. 16, 1964 — Khanh assumes near dictatorial powers and is elected president.

Aug. 25, 1964 — Amid student rioting and religious strife, Khanh resigns as president.

Aug. 27, 1964 — The Military Revolutionary Council dissolves itself. Khanh heads a three man "caretaker" group pending formation of a civilian government.

Sept. 13, 1964 — Attempted coup by several dissident general fails as the air force remains loyal to Khanh.

Oct. 26, 1964 — Minh resigns as chairman of the military junta. Khanh resigns as premier.

Oct. 30, 1964 — Saigon Mayor Tran Van Huong named premier.

Nov. 4, 1964 — Civilian government takes office, with Huong as premier. High National Council set up to act as temporary legislative body.

Dec. 8, 1964 — Young military commanders overthrow the the interim civilian legislature.

Jan. 27, 1965 — Gen. Nguyen Khanh and Armed Forces Council oust Huong in a bloodless coup.

Feb. 19, 1965 — Col. Pham Ngoc Thao claims coup d' etat deposing Khanh.

Feb. 21, 1965 — Gen. Khanh regains control.

Feb. 22, 1965 — Gen. Khanh resigns as commander-in-chief. He is temporarily replaced by Maj. Gen. Tran Van Minh, chief of staff of the S. Vietnam forces.

was killed when her horse bolted into a stationary car at the intersection of Mt. Vernon and Massachusetts. The coroner's office said that she suffered a fractured skull.

She was an expert horseman and was familiar with the horse

It is owned by a friend wh was riding another horse. She had ridden the 12-year-old mare Taffie, in a parade in Nationa City recently.

The horse ran into the rea fender of a car operated by Dennis Young, 19, of 7266 San Miguel ave., Lemon Grove. The horse is owned by Pat McCormick, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. McCormick of 2349 Bonita st.

The girls were riding within three blocks of their home when the horse struck the car and fell. The horse had bolted in a vacant lot just prior to the accident. There was no indication of why the horse bolted. After striking Young's car the horse ran home and appeared only slightly injured.

Another neighbor, Melvin L. Nunn of 7351 Beryl st., said Cheryl had ridden Taffie many times during the last several years. The horse is ridden almost every day by someone in the neighborhood, he said.

During the Christmas holidays Cheryl and Pat took Taffie and another horse owned by the McCormicks into the mountains for a week-long camping trip.

"Cheryl probably rode the horse more than anyone else," Nunn said.

She is survived by her parents and two brothers, David, 13, and Allan, 1.

Cheryl was an outstanding student at Mt. Miguel.

She was treasurer of Mounted Troop No. 1161, Girl Scouts.

Girl Scout Chatter

by Mary D. Giacinto

Troop 751 under the able guidance of Alma Miller gave a most unique presentation at a flag ceremony at Vista La Mesa School last week at a parent-teacher's meeting The junior troop, in full dress of course, was impressive. However, the unique part was that ten of the girl scouts were in the full dress of the girl scouts from Luxembourg, Haiti, Ireland, Pakistan, France, Australia, India and Italy. Though the uniforms were beautiful and colorful, they were an education in themselves. Perhaps if some of the interested leaders contacted Mrs. Miller she would divulge her source of international inspiration.

Troop 751's girl scouts have really working hard toward earning their badges. Karen Ruse has so far earned badges in health aid, housekeeper, home health and safety, hospitality and pets. Martie Breshahan, who has also earned many badges, has recently transferred to another troop.
